

Lisa C. McKinney

Profile

Lisa McKinney is a partner in the Environmental Law Group and chair of the Hospitality, Alcoholic Beverage and Administrative Law Groups. She concentrates her practice in four areas of law: environmental, administrative, alcohol and tobacco, and procurements. Her particular focus within environmental law includes due diligence, acquisition and sale of real estate, Brownfields, grant and low interest loans assistance, Voluntary Remediation Program Cleanups, RCRA and CERCLA issues, as well as real estate and corporate transactions.

She has extensive experience in administrative matters before the Indiana Alcohol and Tobacco Commission (ATC), including policy and legislative task forces with the ATC contract negotiations, application and renewal preparation, local board and ATC hearings, appeals and responding to alleged violations. Ms. McKinney represents a range of clients from convenience stores, large retailers, restaurants, importers, big box stores, developers, hotels, golf courses, drug and grocery stores, taverns and clubs. She also represents clients in federal, state and international matters related to permitting, production, distribution, labeling and marketing of alcohol products.

In addition, Ms. McKinney has successfully worked on procurement contracts and appeals before the Indiana Department of Administration, including procurement opportunities and appeals for certified women-owned or minority-owned businesses (MBE/WBEs).

A 1992 graduate of Indiana University Maurer School of Law - Bloomington, she is past-president of the Alumni Board of Directors for the Indiana University Maurer School of Law Alumni, a member of the IU Maurer School of Law Board of Visitors and a representative for the Maurer School of Law on the IU Alumni Association Executive Council.
